BLOOD ON THE MOON

A Negro Tough Shot at the City Gardens.

Two Black Sports Engage in a Desperate Fight.

They Are Finally Parted By Their Friends.

But One Sneaks Off and Arms Himself With ixshooter—He Puts a Hole Through His Brother's Head — He

There was a big negro picnic yesterday at the City Gardens, and the revelries were prolonged into the night. The entire crowd was comfortably full of tanglefoot and as the night grew on apace, they be-came rather hilarious. About 10 o'clock there was a general free row, in which some blood was spilled, but nothing serious. Shortly after the row, "Big Douglas," a well-known negro, who was for a long time a bar-tender in the negro saloon, on Los Angeles street, near First, went into an eating-stand kept by one Kinney Brown, also colored, and bought some goods. After he had gotten his fill he started off without paying for it, and Brown asked him for the money. With that a war of words began, and ended by Douglas grabbing up

A BIG BUTCHER-KNIFE and making for Brown with blood in his Brown was wary, however, eyes. Brown was wary, however, and when Douglas got close enough got in one good right-hander on him and knocked him down. Douglas came to time again and started to make another break when bystanders interfered and stopped them.

Douglas went out into the ballroom and it was supposed that the row was over, but Brown procured a pistol, and going into the ballroom walked up to Douglas and without a word pulled the "gun" and fired. Instantly there was a great commotion in the hall among the dusky

BEAUX AND BELLES, and when the smoke cleared away it was found that Douglas had been struck by the bullet in the left cheek and dangerously Officer Warner, who was stationed at the gardens, rushed in and disarmed the shooter and placed him under arrest, but the fighter had his blood up and didn't want to go. A telephone message was sent in to the police station and Officer McCarthy went out. When he arrived Brown was still unwilling to go, but the officer persuaded him that he had better come along quietly, and he finally consented.

vas procured and he was taken to the sta-ion. He didn't want to be locked up and demanded ball, and the Chief was sent for to decide whether or not he could be ad-mitted to bail. The Chief said he couldn't, and Brown was put behind the bars. Douglas was put into a hack and taken to a place on Allso street, where his wound was examined. It was pronounced dan-gerous, but not necessarily fatal.

A very attractive programme had been A very attractive programme had been arranged by the proprietors of the Vienna Buffet, by whom the entertainment was given. At 2 o'clock the amusements commenced by a contest between the City and Meine Bros.' bands, which resulted in a draw, the judges, A. J. Stamm, Louis Heine and A. Willhartitz, being unable to come to a decision more favorable to one than another. Raffling for 20 prizes that were offered by the management took place, and the winning numbers will be published tomorrow. After nightfall the gardens were illuminated by myriads of Chinese lanterns, which gave a fairylike aspect to the grounds that was very attractive. Dancing was indulged in during the evening in the pavilion, and was kept up until after midnight.

was very actuative. Dateing was intudiged in during the evening in the pavilion, and was kept up until after midnight.

The pyrotechnic display was not anything to beast about, and was not sufficiently attractive to draw the merry crowd away from the dancing.

The management claim that 12,000 people visited the gardens during the day, and as no trouble of any kind took place, the fact is creditable considering the necessarily miscellaneous character of the people who attended. Provision had been made for those desiring luncheon in the grounds, but as the prices charged were exorbitant, most of the hungry ones took their revenge out of the drinkables, which were served at usual prices, and, as a consequence, the managers of the enterprise are well satisfied with their venture in celebrating the national holiday.

THE HORRIBLES,

There was a general impatience on the part of the immense throng which crowded the streets to get a glimpse of the Horribles, who had been so extensively advertised, and of whom great things were expected, but when this last parade had passed there was a feeting of disappointment as general as the impatience, and the crowd looked as though it had made a mistake in standing on its tired feet for three hours to see a howling mob of boys pass by.

The procession formed and came out of Franklin street into Spring at 3 o'clock, and filed up Spring to Main, thence down Main to Fifth, up Fifth to Spring, and thence down Spring to Franklin and the forming ground.

The line was headed by a platon of mounted officers. Then came the Horrible officers in grote-sque costume, and after them a long column of men and boys, mounted and afoot, dressed in every kind of costume, carrying tin horns, brass horns, bass drums, kettle drums, tin pans and several other contrivances for making an unearthly noise. Each division of the column was supposed to represent something or somebody, but the crowd couldn't quite make out who or what it was, and the whole column gave to the spectators a confused idea of a meaningless jumble of incongruous colors, costumes and sounds. If it was the intent of the projectors to produce such an effect, the parade were the Indians, and next to that the Japs, who were really good as Japs go.

The lady herself says she did, Mr. Yan Tassel says so, too, and the Fredericksburg brewery people, under whose auspices the ascent was made, are very emphatic in saying she did, but there are any number of people who are willing to say that the delicate form which dangled at the end of the parachute bar was an artistically stuffed dummy. But among all the crowd there was not one who would take oath on either side, and the matter still remains unsettled.

there was not one who would take oath on either side, and the matter still remains unsettled.

Chief Cuddy says he would like to see somebody who says she did jump. That official had concluded that the thing would be too barbarous, and yesterday he detailed Officer McCarthy to go down and stop the proceedings. The officer found Van Tassel and notified him that no females were allowed in balloons, and that kind of amusement was for men only. The aeronaut explained the workings of the parachute to the officer, and satisfactorily demonstrated to him that there was no danger. The officer left to make his report to the Chief, and then it was that the balloonist showed his shrewdness. The time for the ascent had been fixed for 1:30 p.m., but the big bag was hastlly inflated, the man and woman stepped in, and the first intimation the Chief had was seeing the air-ship saling away toward the clouds, taking both man and woman out of reach of the police. The Chief watched the balloon closely, but says he never saw anybody drop.

Whether she came down or not, the whole affair was very unsatisfactory, and the big crowd who had gathered to watch it were badly sold. The balloon came down near Sycamore Grove after hovering over the city about an hour.

"MASH" LOAFERS.

A Gang of Wretches Who Insult Ladies on the Streets. There are in the city some 20 or 25 men who make a habit of insulting ladies on the streets. These men are generally very careful to wait until they see a lady walking along without an escort, when they either walk up and insolently stare her in the face, or attempt to introduce themselves. It has got to be so bad that several wellheadquarters, and Detective Metzler and several other officers are on the lookout for them. The last cutrage of the kind was Tuesday night, when two ladies, who were Treesday night, when two ladies, who were dining at a well-known restaurant, were handed a note by a newsboy, asking whether they could not be seen after dinner. The boy said that the note had been given him by a party of men who were dining at the same time. The young lady at once hunted up her father and handed him the note, and that gentleman spent several hours in trying to find the party. He was unsuccessful, or there would have been a lively-scance. The Times is in possession of the names of five or six of the most notorious of the gang, and the next time complaint is made they will be published. The police are also on the lookout, and say they will "vag" the next one of these loafers that they can lay their hands on.

A HARD FALL.

A Gentleman and His Wife Thrown from Their Buggy. Two buggles collided about 2 o'clock in front of the Nadeau House, and Edward St. Clair and his wife, who were in one of the vehicles, were thrown out upon the ground. The lady sprang up unhurt, but the man lay still as death where he had fallen. He was picked up and carried into Stoddard's drug store, and a physician called. It was at first thought that he was dead, but restoratives were applied, and in a few moments he was on his feet again, unhurt save for a few scratches.

Tangled Up with the Selvation Army Yesterday.

An aged citizen from up in the mountains was standing yesterday at the corner of First and Spring, when the Salvation Army came filing by with banners and cymbals. He gazed at the odd-looking line for some moments in silence, as if unable to make out what kind of a nondescript it was. Finally, in a perplexed way, he turned to his partner, standing by, and drawled out: "Jim, is that what they call the Oro Fino Club?" Jim said it was.

Some little friction had been caused by not giving the G.A.R. the post of honor in the procession to which they have been accustomed, and which, with some show of reason, they consider they are entitled.

As the line of march was long, and very many of the G.A.R. are advanced in years, only those members from the different posts who felt able to endure the fatigue feil into line. The Garibaldi Guards, headed by two standard bearers bearing in their

The Garibaldi Guards, headed by two standard bearers bearing in their hands the flags of free Italy and the country of their adoption, stepped gracefully along, and being hardy-looking men, jauntily clad in the world-famed scarlet shirts, they provoked a considerable amount of admiration, all the more pronounced when a pretty little girl dressed in correct costume as a vivandiere, with canwhen a pretty little girl dressed in correct costume as a vivandiere, with canteen on her hip, was espied marching beneath the banners at the head of the column. The Bakers' Union made an excellent showing, clad in white caps, jackets and aprons, and the two tiny little bakers who trotted along at the head of the company appeared quite proud of their responsible position. A mounted knight of "ye olden tyme" served as standard-bearer to "King Barleycoro," who, while reclining on his throne, was arawn by four horses, each led by a groom handsomely apparelled. When the music ceased, Maj. Bonebrake presented Rev. W. J. Chichester, who made a short, prayer, in which he referred in a most touching manner to gallant Phil Sheridan, now fighting the greatest battle of his life, away by the eastern sea, and offered up a supplication for his recovery.

Again the band, and then Maj. Bonebrake led to the front of the stage pretty, petite Louise Manfred. When he announced her name the crowd recognized and applauded her. The band played an introduction and Miss Manfred then sang two verses of the "Star Spangled Banner," the band accompanying her. She bowed and returned to her seat; but the crowd wanted more of the best feature of the programme, and signified it by a vigorous elapping of hands and calls for more. The little lady responded and gave a third verse, which was warmly applauded.

ORATOR OF THE DAY.

Music again, and then Mr. Portland C. Hunt, late of Indiana, but now of Los Angeles, was presented as the orator of the day. He said that two great principles are ever contending for the mastery of human government; whether a favored few shall rule, or whether the toiling shall shape and control their own affairs of public and private concern. In ancient history the former manner of government triumphed. True, the Roman citizens were renowned for their mobility and greatness, but they paid tribute to sordid princes who lived in palaces in indolent indulgence. The practice of usurpation and greed prevailed everywhere. The idea of a free government by the people was no more than a Utoplan dream until it was established on American soil.

Equal and exact justice to all men and exclusive privilege to none was the sentiment which animated the heart of Washington when he was the commander-in-chief of American armies, and it was the same scutiment of Jefferson, Patrick Henry. Payne and the other great minds, and of Putnam De Kalb, Greene, Wayne and the many who fought with him. Lafayette, Kosciusko and other warriors born under alien skies fought with him for the same principles, and Pitt had the courage to stand in the English Parliament and declare for them. God grant that these names may never die. May the story of American independence be transmitted to all posterity. Patriotic epitaphs may grow green and overed with moss, but their story will never be forgotten. ORATOR OF THE DAY.

ten. Leaving the revolutionary period behind Leaving the revolutionary period behind, we see a thriving young republic springing up and reaching out its arms for a greater domain. The purchase of Louisiana is an evidence of the sagacity and statesman-hip of the men who contrived it. Yet another thing of greater importance to Californians, the annexation of Texas, stands a testimonial to Zachary Taylor and the brave men who fought a war to gain it.

mial to Zachary Taylor and the brave men who fought a war to gain it.

The past and present history of our own State is a well worn theme. What will its future be? I believe California will continue to move forward on a grander, firmer and more substantial basis. The steam engine has bound the two oceans together, carrying our products to the markets of the world. The progress of our State reminds us of the grandeur of the statesmanship which reached out across the mountains and took up this land, which changed the map of North America and brought into the world untold millions of wealth and so extended our domain that the sun never sets on the islands of Alaska until it has risen on the rock-bound shore of Maine.

The late war is not a topic for public discussion. It is enough to say that the white-winged angel of peace hovered over those

The late war is not a topic for public discussion. It is enough to say that the white-winged angel of peace hovered over those brave armies during all the conflict. Marriage has united the sons of the North and the daughters of the South and the sons of the South and the daughters of the North. Children have been born to them, and in the union all sectional feeling and prejudices must die away.

It has been twelve and one hundred years since the first republic that ever lived was born, and it behooves us to guard well its interests for the benefit of ourselves and the enjoyment of those who come after us. A destiny awaits the American people, beside which the most brilliant pages of history grow pale, and it is not far away. Greece may boast of her heroes; Italy of her music and sculpture; Germany of her learning and philosophy; England of her subjugating power—but the United States stands the unrivalled queen of the world.

There was some applause when the speaker concluded, and then the band rendered a strain of "Yankee Doodle," at the close of which the crowd, which had considerably thinned in point of numbers, was dismissed by a benediction delivered by Rev. Dr. McLeman of Canada.

NOTES. beautiful flag, presented by the ladies of

The Tyroleers, Company G., carried a beautiful flag, presented by the ladies of Anaheim to the company.

Company B of San Diego gained great praise for their smart appearance and soldierly bearing. Capt. Nerney, who was in command, was formerly connected with the Ohio State militia.

The local militia would look more military and smarter in every way with either all fatigue caps or all shakes. Occasionally, too, the bess of a button might be detected. Such trifies attended to would enhance the appearance of the company.

Who were the two damozels in the carriage with the genial manager of the Vienna Buffet, and whom did they represent? Were they Hungarian maidens or the witches from Macbeth?

When the Los Angeles cracker exhibit was passing the courthouse the men wore very busy throwing biscuits among the crowd, when an irrepressible small boy shouted out, "Give us one, mister." "Mister" did give him one, but as he wanted in his stomach and got it in the eye, he commenced to how!.

The Nadeau Hotel "shaving parlor" exhibit was very funny, and the barber with the monstrosity of a razor was pronounced a "data" at his business.

The fair-haired little maid who sat working the sewing machine in the automatic machine exhibit seemed to be in a perilous position. The joiting of the wagon swayed the little tot about, but she hung on to her seat and kept the machine going for all it was worth.

the little tot about, but she hung on to her seat and kept the machine going for all it was worth.

Members of the Los Angeles militia refreshed the Inner man at the Vienna Buffet after the procession and raised such angelic strains that they aimost cracked the ceiling, not to mention the drums of the ears of their victims.

A gang of boys, some mounted, others on toot, made a little pandemonium of their own and whooped things up for the Tribune. It was no use, however, and on the Cactus and yelled for it.

The police made a fine appearance in the procession yesterday. The boys have been drilling industriously for some weeks past, and have taken a great deal of interest in making a creditable display. They were considerably taken back when they were put in the middle of the line, contrary to all precedent, and there was a general kick at this mismanagement. As the men were all ready they concluded to march rather than to create any disturbance. After the procession, Chief Cuddy took the squad to lunch at the Grand Army lunch rooms, after which liquid refreshments were indulged in, and they dispersed in high good humor.

There is a gentleman in this city who has in his possession an old document, which was issued by the vigilance committee of was issued by the vigilance committee of San Francisco in 1856. When the committee was organized that city was full of thieves and murderers, and it was almost impossible to find an honest officer. The committee hung and shota great many men within the space of a few months, and ran several thousand out of the city. The following address has never been published in this city, and may prove of interest: this city, and may prove of interest: CONSTITUTION AND ADDRESS OF THE Constitution.—WHEREAS, it has become constitution.—WHEREAS, it has become apparent to the citizens of San Francisco that there is no security for life and property, either under the regulations of society, as it at present exists, or under the laws as now administered, and that by the associa now administered, and that by the association together of bad characters our ballothoxes have been stolen and others substituted or stuffed with votes that were never poiled, and thereby our elections nullified—our dearest rights violated and no other method left by which the will of the people can be manifested:

COMMITTEE OF VIGILANCE OF SAN

Therefore, those citizens whose names are hereunto attached do unite themselves into an association for the maintenance of the peace and good order of society—the prevention and punishment of crime—the preservation and pusishment of crime—the preserva-tion of our lives and property, and to insure that our ballot-bases shall hereafter express the actual and unforged will of the tion of our lives and property, and to insure that our baliot-boxes shall hereafter express the actual and unforged will of the majority of our citizens: and we do bind ourselves each unto the other by a solemn oath, to do and perform every just and lawful act for the maintenance of law and order, and to sustain the laws when talthfully and properly administered. But we are determined that no thief, burglar, incendiary, assassin, ballot-box stuffer, or other disturbers of the peace, shall escape punishment, either by the quibbles of the law—the insecurity of prisons—the carelessness or corruption of the police, or a laxity of those who pretend to administer justice; and to secure the objects of this association we do hereby agree:

First—That the name and style of this association shall be the Committee of Vigilance, for the protection of the ballot-box, the lives, liberty and property of the clizens and residents of the city of San Francisco.

Second—That there shall be rooms for the Fifth—That all matters of detail and government shall be embraced in a code of bylaws.

Seventh—That the action of this body shall be entirely and rigorously free from all consideration of participation in the merits or demerits, or opinion or acts, of any and all sects, political parties, or sectional divisions in the community; and every class or orderly citizens, or whatever sect, party or nativity, may become members of this body. And, believing ourselves to be executor of the will of the majority of our citizens, we do pledge our social honor to defend and sustain each other in carrying out the determined action of this committee at the hazard of our lives and our fortunes.

33 SECRETARY. [Seal of the committee.]

TO THE PEOPLE OF CALIFORNIA: The Committee of Vigilance, placed in the position they now occupy by the voice and countenance of the vast majority of their fellow citizens as executors of their will, desire to define the necessity which has forced this people into their present or-has forced this people into their present organization.

Great public emergencies demand prompt and vigorous remedies. The people—long suffering under an organized despotism, which has invaded their liberties, squandered their property, usurped their offices et trust and emolument, endangered their lives, prevented the expression of their will through the ballot-box and corrupted the channels of justice—have now arisen in virtue of their inherent right and power. All political, religious and sectional differences and issues have given way to the paramount necessity of a thorpower. All political, religious and sectional differences and issues have given way to the paramount necessity of a thorough and fundamental reform and purification of the social and political body. The voice of the whole people has demanded union and organization as the only means of making our laws effective and regaining the rights of free speech, free vote and public safety.

For years they have patiently waited and striven in a peaceable manner and in accordance with the forms of law to reform the abuses which have made our city a byword. Fraud and violence have folicit every effort, and the laws, to which the people looked for protection, while distorted and rendered effete in practice, so as to shield the vile, have been used as a powerful engine to fasten upon us tyranny and misrule.

As Republicans we look to the ballot-box misrule.

As Republicans we look to the ballot-box as our safeguard and sure remedy. But so effectually and so long was its voice smothered, the votes deposited in it by freemen so entirely outnumbered by ballots thrust in through fraud at midnight, or nullified by the faise counts of judges and inspectors of elections at noonday, that many doubted whether the majority of the people were not utterly corrunt.

whether the majority of the people were not utterly corrupt.

Organized gangs of bad men, of all political parties, or who assumed any particular creed from mercenary or corrupt motives. have parcelled out our offices among themselves, or sold them to the highest bidders; have provided themselves with convenient tools to obey their nod, as clerks, inspectors and judges of elections; have employed bullies and professional fighters to destroy taily-lists by force, and prevent peaceable clitzens from ascertaining, in a lawful manner, the true number of votes polity at our elections;

And have used countried contribed

And have used cunningly contrived ballot-boxes, with false sides and bot-toms, so brepared that by means of a spring or slide, spurious tickets, concealed there previous to the election, could be mingled with genuine votes.

Of all this we have the most irrifragible proofs. Felons from other lands and States, and unconvicted criminals equally as bad, have thus controlled public funds and property, and have often amassed sudden fortunes without having done and honest day's work with nead or hands. Thus the fair inheritance of our city has been embezzled and squandered—our streets and wharves are in ruins, and the miserable entailment of an enormous debt will bequeath sorrow and poverty to another generation.

The jury-box has been tampered with, and'our jury trials have been made to shield the hundreds of murderers whose red hands have cemented this tyrany, and silenced with the bowie-knife and the pistol not only the free voice of an indignant press, but the shuddering rebuke of the outraged citizen.

but the shuddering rebuke of the outraged citizen.

To our shame be it said that the inhabitants or distant lands already know that corrupt men in office as well as gamblers, shoulder-strikers and other yile tools of unserupulous leaders, beat, maim and shoot down with impunity, as well peaceable and unoffending citizens, as those earnest reformers, who, at the known hazard of their lives, and with singleness of heart have sought in a lawful manner to thwart schemes of public plunder or to awaken investigation. Embodied in the principles of Republican governments are the truths that the majority should rule, and that when corrupt officials, who have fraudulently siezed the reigns of authority, designedly thwart the execution of the laws and avert punishment from the notoriously guilty, the power they usurp reverts back to the people from whom it was wrested.

Realizing these truths, and confident that they were carrying out the will of the vast majority of the citizens of this country, the Committee of Vigilance, under a solemn sense of the responsibility that rested upon them, have caimly and dispassionately weighed the evidences before them and decreed the death of some and banishment of others, who, by their crimes and villainies had stained our fair land. With those that, were banished this comparatively moderate punishment was chosen, not because ignominious death was not deserved, but that the error, if any, might surely be upon the side of mercy to the criminal. There were others scarcely less guilty, against whom the same punishment has been decreed, but they have been allowed further time to arrange for their final departure, and with the hope that permission to depart vountarily might induce repentance, and repentance amendment, they have been suffered to choose within certain limits their own time and method of going.

Thus far, and throughout their arduous duties, they have, and will be, guided by the most conscientious convictions of imperative duty; and they earnestly hope that in endeavoring to mete out merciful justice to the guilty their counseis may be guided by that power before whose tribunal we shall all stand; that in the vicissitudes of after life, amid the calm reflections of old age, and in the clear view of dying conscience, there may be found nothing we would regret or wish to change.

We have no friends to reward, no enemies to punish, no private ends to accomplish.

Our single, heartfelt alm is the public good; the purging from our community of was wrested. Realizing these truths, and confident that either partiality for, or prejudice against, any race, sect or party.

While thus far we have not discovered on the part of our constituents any indications of lack of confidence, and have no reason to doubt that the great majority of the inhabitants of the county indorse our acts, and desire us to continue the work of weeding out the irreclaimable characters from the community, we have with deep regret seen that some of the State authorities have felt it their duty to organize a force to resist us. It is not impossible for us to realize that not only those who have sought place with a view to public plunder, but also those gentlemen who, in accepting offices to which they were honestly elected, have sworn to support the laws of the State of California, find it difficult to reconcile their supposed duties with acquiesence in the acts of the Committee of Vigilance, since they do not reflect that perhaps more than three-fourths of the people of the entire State sympathize with and indorse our efforts, and as that all law emanates from the people, so that when the laws thus enacted are not executed the power returns to the people and is theirs whenever they may choose to exercise it. These gentiemen would not have hesitated to acknowledge the self-evident truth had the people chosen to make their present movement a complete revolution, recalled all the power they had delegated and reissimilit to new agents under new forms.

Now, because the people have not seen fit to resume all the powers they have confided to executive or legislative officers, it certainly does not follow that they cannot, in the exercise of their inherent sovereign power, withdraw from corrupt and unfaithful servants the authority they have used to thwart the ends of justice.

The officers whose mistaken sense of their inherent sovereign power, withdraw from corrupt and unfaithful servants the authority they have used to the active of interesting the authority they have used to thus the ends of justice.

the people have entrusted to them the duty of gathering evidence, and after due trial, expelling from the community those ruffians and assassins who have so long outraged the peace and good order of society, violated the ballot-box, overridden law and thwarted justice. Beyond the duties incident to this, we do not desire to interfere necessity which called us into action, we are anxious that this necessity should exist been accomplished, when the community shall be freed from the evils ut has so long endured; when we have insured to our citizens an honest and vigorous protection of their rights, then the Committee of Vigilance will find great pleasure in resigning their power into the hands of the people from whom it was received.

The apricot drying season is fairly on now, and a large number of men, boys and girls are busily engaged in picking, cutting and spreading the fruit. The crop is large and the yield of dried fruit will reach above that of last year. The fruit is peculiarly a California product, it being grown only here in copsiderable quantities. It makes no difference whether the fruit is put on the market fresh, canned or dried, it is a universal favorite and commands a good price. The apricot drying season is fairly on

THE IRISH-AMERICANS.

IRISH-AMERICAN CENTRAL CLUB FORMED HERE.

The Democracy Severely Denounced -Why Irish-Americans Cannot Vote for Cleveland-Free Trade and the Chinese.

Hibernia Hall was crowded last night with Irish-American citizens. The meet with Irish-American citizens. The meeting was convened for the purpose of organizing an Irish-American Republican club. Mr. Patrick Mahoney called the meeting to order, and John F. Hogan was elected temparary chairman. On taking the chair Mr. Hogan delivered a spirited speech, in which he denounced the Democracy as the pro-British quantity in American politics. He reviewed the free-trade question, and declared that the Irishmen who need any coaching on that subject must be ignorant coaching on that subject must be ignoran indeed. He sketched the history of free trade in Ireland and pictured its terrible results.

Mr. Dorney said that the Democratic leaders are using the Chinese question as dust with which to blind the eyes of the people. The people will not allow the HABPING OF DEMAGOGUES upon one ill to blind them to the dangers of a greater evil. Because we are afflicted with the presence of the Chinese is no reawith the presence of the Chinese is no reason why we should invite the wretchedness that must inevitably attend the destruction of the American industrial system. Harrison is accused of having favored the Burlingame treaty. If that is true, let it be remembered that none of us fully understood the Chinese question at that time. If Mr. Harrison was then mistaken, or if he was ignorant of the character of the Chinese, so were the DEMOCRATIC SENATORS and statesmen of that day, all of whom favored the treaty of 1868. At that time the city government of San Francisco and the government of San Francisco and the government of the State were Democratic, and when Burlingame landed in San Francisco he was itonized by the Democratic city authorities. The Democratic State authorities flocked to the Bay City to honor the framer of the pro-Chinese treaty, and to emphasize their approval of Mr. Burlingame's course, the Democratic State and metropolitan great guns banqueted him, and the Democratic Governor presided at the banquet.

ADDRESS OF THE IRISH-AMER-ICAN ANTI-FREE TRADERS.

Repudiation of the Claim of the Dem ocratic Party to the Right of the Irish-American Suffrages-Neither Evasion nor Double Dealing This

The Irish-American Anti-Free-Trade The Irish-American Anti-Free-Trade League have issued an address to their countrymen throughout the United States. This league is composed of many of the ablest and most prominent Irishmen in this country. We ask the candid attention of our Irish fellow-citizens to the following extracts from the address referred to:
In view of the approaching Presidential election, we desire to direct your earnest attention to the great importance of the consequences involved therein.

portance of the consequences involved therein.

And first of all we enter our protest against the claim so often made that the Democratic party is entitled as by right to demand the suffrages of Irish-democratic and we amphatically reright to demand the suffrages of Irish-Americans, and we emphatically re-pudiate every such claim as derogatory to our citizenship and insulting to our manhood. The primary obedience of the citizens to the republic—the em-bodiment of our national sovereignty, in presence of which obligations to party sink into insignificance.

Two parties are asking our support, and one great issue on which depends in an especial manner the prosperity or adversity of the workingmen of America is at stake. That issue involves the abandonment of protection to American industry and the adoption of English free trade or low tariff in its place.

American industry and the adoption of English free trade or low tariff in its place.

There can be neither evasion nor double dealing this time. Mr. Cleveland has written the platform of his party in his free-trade message, and he must stand or fall on it. The fact that his opinions are eulogized and supported by the English press, and the peculiar manuer in which the Mills Tariff Bill has been prepared under his directions, ought to arouse the suspicions of the American people. As if to declare hostility to the great manufacturing States of New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Vermont, Connecticut and Rhode Island, their representatives are contemptuously excluded from the Committee of Ways and Means, whose duty it is to formulate all revenue and tariff measures, and the places which (by reason of the vast interests they represent) they ought to occupy, are filled by free traders from agricultural and semi-agricultural States.

After four months of secret consultations with members of the English Cobden Club and agents of British importing houses, and persistent refusals to hear American workingmen who desired to save their industries from destruction, the free-trade majority of sired to save their industries from de-struction, the free-trade majority of said committee have presented a bill which, if passed, will utterly ruin sevsaid committee have presented a bill which, if passed, will utterly ruin several of our greatest industries, and injure them all.

Let it not be forgotten that the framers of this bill, radical as it is, have not dared to go as far in the direction of English free trade as Mr. Cleveland demanded in his message, thus showing that instead of being better than his party he is far worse. But if he should be reëlected his vicious, inequitable and illogical" schemes against our dearest interests will be carried out to the fullest extent, and workingmen will be abandoned to unequal competition with the pauper-pad laborers of Europe, who are daily crowding our shores to escape from the degraded condition to which Mr. Cleveland's pro-British policy would speedily reduce us. With the experience of the past three years before their eyes, is it possible that Irishmen can be cajoled into repeating the error of 1884? If any further proof of Mr. Cleveland's subserviency to British interests is necessary they can be found in his un-American conduct in the fishery and extradition treaties.

An extradition treaty has been prepared by the Tory Government of England, aided and assisted by Mr. Cleveland's friend and appointee, Minister Phelps, who has given his approval to the brutal coercion policy of Salisbury and Balfour, assuring them that the cause of the tortured people of Ireland has no sympathizers in America but the Irish themselves.

The effect of this treaty would be to flood America with British spies, who might cause the arrest here of any Irishman or American who had visited Ireland and made himself obnoxious to

Irishman or American who had visited Ireland and made himself obnoxious to Irishman or American who had visited Ireland and made himself obnoxious to the British Government; and if by perjury or otherwise a case could be made against a person so arrested, he would be turned over to the tender mercies of English law. It is almost incredible that Mr. Cleveland, who owes the position he holds to frish votes, could give his support to this infamous treaty, but, nevertheless, it is true.

During Joseph Chamberlain's residence in Washington said treaty was sent to the Senate with his (Mr. Cleveland's) approval, and we owe its postponement and possible defeat to the Republican majority in the Senate. It must be remembered, however, that his reëlection and a Democratic majority in the Senate will secure the ratification of that treaty and another diplomatic victory for Great Britain. Now, to show how well Joseph Chamberlain was rewarded for his eminent services to his Government, it should be well known and widely circulated that he is largely interested in the manufacture of tin plates, and to reduce the duty on wood screws and cotton thread, and that the Cleveland-Mills Tariff Bill proposes to establish free trade in tin plates, and to reduce the duty on wood screws and cotton threads olow as to ruin those industries in America and give Chamberlain and other English manufacturers a monopoly of our market. Truly, this renegade's visit to America was productive of gratifying results to his government and himself.

Surely Irishmen who voted for Cleveland must feel little pleasure in reflecting that the cleveland reflecting Surely Irishmen who voted for Cleveland must feel little pleasure in reflecting that they helped to place in power the man and the party who have thus permitted Chamberlain to return home elated with the prospects of filling his coffers at the expense of our American workingmen.

"The satisfaction, I fancy, which the Democrats find in counting the years of their party grows largely out of the fact that it has nothing satisfactory in its achievements. And this will also account for the fact that Democrats who are talking about the ever-living Democracy grow fretful when we boast, not of the years of our party, but of what it has done [applause]; not of a long life, but of a short one, crowded full of high achievements."

When will he back?" she said loftily "In about four weeks, madam," was the reply. "He is now on a business trip to Montana." She traded with the clerks,

A United Party.

Gen. Harrison's nomination has been received in such a manner as to give his supporters great encouragement. His own party is well pleased, now that the true significance of the nomination and the character of the man have been well considered. The friends of those who contended for the nomination are now contending with each other to show the winner the warmest loyalty. Gen. Harrison stands the unquestioned choice of a united party. There are no Republican resentments toward the successful nominee, a point which will be thoroughly appreciated by those who feared that less wise counsels might prevail in the convention. Gen. Harrison will, in all probability, have the cooperation of the genuine Independeuts-of those who left the Republican ranks in 1884 and have not become so firmly wedded to the Democracy that no nomination the Republicans could make would draw them back to their old allegiance. These true Independents are more numerous than the noisy crowd who have gone over entirely to the Democracy. They will give far more votes this year to the Chicago than to the St. Louis ticket and platform.

The advantage which the Republican party has gained by thus nominating a man upon whom all Republicans may unite may not be thoroughly realized just now by some hot-headed men who had laid out for themselves a "rule or ruin" programme, but it will most assuredly become more and more evident to the mass of the voters as the day of election draws near, and will have a very material effect upon the result of the election. No army can do its best when it knows that there is discord in the ranks. On the contrary, when a spirit of united enthusiasm pervades party the battle is already half won. Such is the case with the Republican party this year.

San Diego Spleen.

The National City Record vents its spleen in the following manner:

spleen in the following manner:

San Pedro will never be a great or safe harbor. Nature made San Diego both. That is the difference that will exist between them for all time. A careful mathematician has figured that if San Pedro is given all the improvement it asks for, its Los Angeles freight will cost 70 cents per ton more, delivered, than if unleaded at San Diego and hauled in cars over the new short line. Los Angeles and all intervening territory will always be tributary to this ing territory will always be tributary to this harbor. "Money" will not "make a harbor at San Pedro," or anywhere else where na-ture has not first made the necessary pro-

San Diego had better devote its attention to the development of its own resources and the building up of its own trade, which one of its leading citizens recently described as the exporting of "money, sand and empty beer bar rels." Los Angeles is fully able to take care of itself. The Southern-Pacific Company would not undertake to spend couple of million dollars at San Pedro, as they propose to do, if a firstclass harbor could not be made there. Los Angeles is and will ever remain ern California. A proof of this may be found in the fact that Los Angeles inside property is the only property in THE White House is said to be over- | Southern California that has not only run with rats. If the old proverb about held its own during the past six a sinking ship holds good, they will months, but has increased in value Los Angeles will have three or four good, roomy and safe harbors, before the bay of San Diego is overcrowded with vessels. These facts may not be palatable to our bloviating and jaundiced southern friends, but they are true nevertheless.

Prohibition and Hypocrisy.

The Ontario Observer says that in sinuations have come to its notice oceasionally during the last two months that intoxicating liquers are being dispensed on the sly in that town. It recommends that a vigilance committee be appointed and the services of a detective secured for the purpose of a thorough investigation. If the Observer were not either helplessly or wilfully blind it would not need the services of a detective to convince it that, for those who desire to obtain it, there is very little difficulty in getting liquor either in Ontario, Riverside, Pasadena, or any other of the strict prohibition towns. The only difference is that a person must "learn the ropes," and get his glass of beer or whisky in a roundabout, underhand manner, either in the shape of a prescription by the doctor—paid for with a drink—or otherwise. While prohibition does not prohibit, it breeds hypocrisy and destroys that self-respect which has ever been one of the most prominent traits of American character. High license and a strict police supervision of places where liquor is sold will be found to be the only prac### tical solution of the liquor question.

They will bring a good deal of fresh capital with them to be invested. Judge Thurman on Second Terms.

In a public speech in Columbus in 1872, Judge Thurman said: My friends, you will never have any genu-ine reform in the civil service until you adopt the one-term principle in reference to the Presidency. So long as the incumbent can hope for a second term, he will use the immense patronage of the Government to procure his renomination and secure his reflection. In public as in private inmense patronage of the Government to procure his renomination and secure his reflection. . In public as in private affairs, experience is coastantly developing truths that cannot with safety be overlooked. It has developed the fact that the one-term principle is essential to purity in the civil administration of the Republic. I repeat, until that principle be adopted and acted upon, you will have no genuine reform.

If "the one-term principle is," in Judge Thurman's judgment, "essential to purity in the civil administra-tion of the Republic," why is he now monkeying with the two-term princi-ple? Is "purity in the civil administration of the Republic" any less desirable now than it was in 1872, or does the "honest old Roman" prescribe one principle for his "friends" while he himself practices the other? He re-peats that "until the one-term principle be adopted and acted upon you will have no genuine reform." Then by supporting the two-term scheme of Mr. Cleveland, Judge Thurman is confessedly doing what he can to prevent the country from having any "genuine

It is well to remember that wool can be raised in Australia at half the cost of raising it here. In India cotton can be raised at very small cost. In that country laborers board themselves and work for eight to twelve cents a day. On the eastern coast of China, where the British have a secure hold, there are over 4,000,000 people willing to work for ten cents a day. Free trade in the United States will result in the building by English capitalists of large factories in Australia, India and China India already has such factories. In the meantime our factories would stop, as we could not compete with Chinese labor. A vote to reduce the tariff is a vote for competition with men who are

How They Ratified.

The weather was dry, Riverside was ry, the whole country was dry—every thing was dry; in fact, there has hardly been a time since the earth was evolved eething hot out of smelted chaos when secting not out of smelled chaos when there has been such an overpowering lack of moisture. The dryness has been so thick that yesterday morning a woman out in White's addition made buttered toast out of slices of Spring Brook water, and the per-spiration fell off the Chinamen work-ing on the Arlington Railroad in spiration fell off the Chinamen working on the Arlington Railroad in chunks. In this condition of things a fire would be rather apt to burn, and if properly nourished spring up into a conflagration. Thus evidently thought two diminuitive specimens of human kind in one of our nearer suburbs yesterday afternoon, burning with Rapublican patriction and in with Republican patriotism, and in the hope of doing yeoman's service in the cause of Harrison, Morton and pro-tective tariff, the two in executive session, moved to have a ratification meet sion, moved to have a rathication meeting, and selected as the site of the regulative bonfire the carriage-shed of a well-known physician. They invited a wheelbarrow, three lines of rubber hose, a phaeton, three chickens and the dog to participate in the rejoicing, and elected the cow to preside as chairman of the meeting. Some difficulty was experienced in obtaining flrawyers. man of the meeting. Some difficulty was experienced in obtaining fireworks in the shape of lucifer matches, which was finally overcome, and a supply ob was finally overcome, and a supply obtained by climbing into the kitchen sink and exhausting the match safe. The procession having concluded its line of march the flame of phosphoric patriotism was ignited and a lurid flare of infantile enthusiasm sprang up amid the plaudits of the assembled spectators. At this stage of the demonstration a very unpatriotic married woman made herself conspicuous in the meeting, and, with the assistance of the hired man, effectually disturbed the harmony of the proceedings and put out the rapidly refreshening fire of youthful zeal, while, with a few timely strokes, she drew from the band several fundamental strains of campaign music fundamental strains of campaign music not yet reduced to manuscript, and things were not quite so dry for some

TWELVE INNINGS.

Remarkably Fine Base-ball Game at Stockton.

Stockton, July 4.—[By the Associated Press.] Four thousand people witnessed a game of base-ball of 12 innings today, between the Greenhood & Morans and Stock-Both Lorrigan and Loughran wer on their mettle and pitched in good style, the latter being a trifle wild, giving five men their bases on balls, but outside of this he was very deceptive. Not until the fifth inning was ne found for a single hit. The two teams fielded mag-nificently, and 13 innings were nificently, and 13 innings were played before the Greenhood & Morans broke their record and made an error, and that error—a dropped fly by Long—gave the Stocktons the game. Hardie's running catch of Stockwell's hot liner, doubling up Moore at second in the eiglith inning; Smalley's clever stop of Whitehead's liner in the eleventh, and Pache's long running catch in the seventh, were features of the game. B. Marks of Fresno, member of the State Central Committee, asked that members of the State Central Committee who did not belong to any organized club be admitted as delegates-at-large. The suggestion did not, however, meet with the favor of the convention, but the matter was settled by Notable Gathering.
CINCINNATI, July 4.—[By the Associated Press.]—The streets are alive with strangers this afternoon. At 9 o'clock the gates of the exposition were thrown open. At 11 o'clock the formal opening exercises began at Music Hall. The stage was filled with many of the May festival chorus and Cinmany of the May festival Foraker, Gov. Thayer of Nebraska, Gov. Gray of Indiana, Gov. Beaver of Pennsylvania, with their brilliant staffs, Hon. John muttee who were in a similar position as Marks.

Committees of nine each were appointed on credentials, platform and resolutions and on permanent organization.

A motion was carried that all resolutions be referred to the Committee on Resolutions and Organization, without debate.

After a recess of an hour, the chairman announced the usual committees.

The Committee on Credentials and Order of Business is as follows: Chairman, T. L. Underhill of San Francisco, J. P. Porterfield of San Francisco, Dr. McLean of Merced, Dr. Rodgers of Kern, C. N. Wilson of Los Angeles, George Lichthard of Sacramento, W. Page of Sonoma, J. H. Thomas of Tulare and J. C. Boggs of Placer.

The Committee on Resolutions and Platform, chairman, P. D. Wigginton, comprises S. Selon Hall of Sacramento, A. Daggett of Tulare, B. C. Cuveiller of Alameda, A. J. Robertson of San Francisco, W. L. Peet of San Francisco, J. F. Chapman of Alameda, J. Norton, of Sonoma and T. Wilson of Pel Norte.

The Committee on Permanent Organization is, chairman, J. M. Bassett of Alameda, Fred Eaton of San Francisco. Thomas A. Smith of Alameda, B. Marks of Fresno, B. F. Sherbourn of Humboldt, J. F. McSwain of Merced, E. S. West of Santa Cruz, A. T. Hatch of Solano and N. M. Orr of San Joaquín.

The convention adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Gray of Indiana, Gev. Beaver of Pennsylvania, with their brilliant staffs, Hon. John Sherman and Hon. Ben Butterworth, were signalized by hearty applause. An eloquent prayer was offered by Rev. George B. Thayer. Gov. Foraker made an address of welcome. He began by naming the Governors and others who were present upon the platform. When he named the last on the list as "that illustrious son of Ohio, Senator Sherman," there was a tempest of applause which bid fair to interrupt the proceedings. Gov. Foraker made the point that this exposition was national in its character, intended to be illustrative and commemorative of the progress of Ohio and the Central States in the past century.

It was but a few minutes of 19 o'clock when President Allison announced that they would wait for a signal from Mrs. Polk to start the machinery. Suddenly a gong in the hall sounded. There was a ripple of applause at the wired signal, and Gov. Foraker exclained to the audience that the gong had been sounded by electricity by Mrs. Polk at her home in Nashville. Then little Mary Allison, the 10-year-old daughter of President Allison, stepped to the side of the stage, and, pressing an electric button, gave 12 signals on the gong, and put in motion the ponderous machinery of the exposition. President Allison then formally declared the exposition open. *After this brief addresses were made by Govs. Thayer, Gray and Beaver, Lieut. Gov. Bryam, Hon. Benjamin Butterworth and Hon. John Sherman, and the ceremonles were ended.

The great parade started promptly at 2:30, and moved without serious delay over the six-mile route. It required two hours to pass a given point, and was witnessed throughout by delighted crowds.

Chairman Estee's Speech in Behalf of the Committee.

The General's Modest and Manly Words in Reply.

Another Great Event at the Republican Leade Home-He Is Visited by the Tippecanon Veterans Who Served Under His Grandfather.

By Telegraph to the Times.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 4.—[By the Associated Press.] The Notification Committee representing the late Republican National Convention today officially informed Gen. Harrison of his nomination as the candidate of the Republican party for President. At 10 o'clock this morning the delegates com-prising the Notlication Committee met in the pariors of the Denison Hotel for the purpose of arranging the details of the cere-mony and signing the official notice. Hon. M. M. Estee of California, chairman of the Republican Convention, presided, and Charles Clisbee acted as secretary: Ex-Gov. Foster of Ohlo and Hon. Logan Root of Arkansas were placed in nomination for vice-chairman of the committee, but both declined in favor of H. A. Potter of New Jersey, who was unanimously chosen. The address to Gen. Harrison having been signed by each member, the committee placed itself at the disposal of the local committee on arrangements, Hon. J. N. Huston, chairman. Before adjourning the committee voted to meet in New York city, at the Murray Hill Hotel, at 10 o'clock on Saturday morning, for the purpose of arranging the programme for the notification of Hon. Levi P. Morton. At 11:30 the delegation proceeded in carriages to the home of Gen. Harrison. Hon. Russell Harrison and Capt. M. F.

McLean met the delegates at the door and escorted them through the hall into the parlor, being the center room between the drawing room and library. The latter room and hallways were crowded with friends and neighbors of General Harrison, including many ladies. When the committee had all entered the room, at 12 o'clock, Gen. Harrison and his wife came downstairs.

Just as Mrs. Harrison reached the last step she tripped and fell on her knees, but the General assisted her to rise, and with admirable composure the distinguished lady took the General's arm and entered the parlor amid respectful silence

CHAIRMAN ESTEE'S ADDRESS. As the ladies took their positions beside ien. Harrison, Chairman Estee stepped forward and in a spiendid voice said:

"Gen. Harrison: We are commissioned by the National Republican Convention to officially notify you of your nomination as the Republican candidate for President of the United States. In doing this we may be permitted to remind you that your selection met the hearty approval of the whole convention. It left no embittered feelings or lukewarm supporters, and its action voiced the average and best judgment of the convention. It is true that disaction voiced the average and best judgment of the convention. It is true that distinguished gentiemen, well known to the people, who were experienced in public affairs, illustrious in character and worthy of the people's confidence and support, were before the convention as candidates, and yet you were chosen. Nor was your somination due to accident or the result of nasty or inconsiderate deliberation. It indicated, rather, that you possessed in an aminent degree those peculiar qualities which commend you to the people's favor in the hour of our country's peril you therfully accepted an humble position in the army when your country needed you; and by long and faithful service rose to a sigher command and assumed graver responsibilities. Elected to the United States Senate, your enlightened and conservative statesmanship commanded the respect and inspired the confidence of the American people. The platform adopted by the National Republican Convention marks out with clearness and precision the creed of the party. The American system of protection to American labor and American products in American markets; the sacredness and purity of the ballot; the protection of American system of protection of American system of protection of American markets; the sacredness and purity of the ballot; the protection of Chinese immigration; the build ing up of our navy; the crection of coast defenses and the special care fold soldiers and sailors of the Republic, are questions which occupy a conspicuous place in our platform. When Mr. Estee had concluded, Gen. Harrison read his reply from manuscript in a full, rich voice, as follows:

Harrison read his reply from manuscript in a full, rich voice, as follows:

"Mr. Chairman, and Gentlemen of the Comnittee: The official notice which you have brought of the nomination conferred upon me by the Republican National Convention, recently in session at Chicago, excites emotions of a profound though somewhat conflicting character. That after full deliberation and free consultation the representatives of the Republican party of the United States should have concluded that the general principles enunciated in the platform adopted by the convention could be in some measure confided to my care, is an honor of which I am deeply sensible and for which I am very grateful. I do not assume or believe that the choice implies that the convention found in me any preëminent fitness or exceptional fidelity to the principles of government to which we are fully pledged. My satisfaction with the result would be altogether lost if that result had been reached by any unworthy method or by the disparagement of more eminent men, who divided with me the suffrages of the convention. I accept the nomination with so deep a sense of the dignity of the office and of the gravity of its duties and responsibilities as altogether to exclude any feeling of exultation or pride. The principles of government and the practices in administration, upon which the issues are now fortunately so clearly made, are so important in their relations to to exclude any feeling of exultation or pride. The principles of government and the practices in administration, upon which the issues are now fortunately so clearly made, are so important in their relations to national and individual prosperity that we may expect an unusual popular interest in the campaign. Relying wholly upon the considerate judgment of our fellow-citizens and the grace of God, we will confiden'ly unbmit our cause to the arbitrament of a reee hallot. The day you have chosen for this visit suggests no thoughts that are not in harmony with the occasion. The Republican party has walked in the light of the Declaration of Independence. It has erected the shaft of patriotism upon the foundation laid at Bunker Hill. It has made a more perfect Union secure by making all men free. Washington at Yorktown and Lincoln at Appomatiox, the Declaration of Independence and the proclamation of emancipation are naurally and worthily associated in our thoughts today. As soon as may be possible I shall by letter communicate to your chairman a more formal acceptance of the nomination; but it is proper to say that I have already examined the platform with some care, and that its declarations, to some of which your chairman has alluded, are in harmony with my views. It gives me pleasure, gentlemen, to receive you in my home, and to thank you for the cordial manner in which you have conveyed your official message."

Long and hearty applause reëchoed through the house as Gen. Harrison concluded his address, and reaching forth cordially grasped the extended hand of Chairman Este, who then presented him with an official copy of the Republican platform. The formalities of the occasion having concluded, Gen. Harrison instantly became the genial host, while Chairman Estee, acting as master of ceremonies, introduced the gentlemen as they passed, to the ladies.

Gen. Harrison invited the members of the committee to remain and partake of an elegant lunch, which was spread in the spacious dining-room adjoining the library. After the committee had been served, the General and his son came out and rounded up the hungry newspaper men and served them with the good things of his table.

THE TIPPECANOE VETERANS CALL.
This will be a memorable day for Gen. Harrison and his wife, as, aside from the official notification of his nomination, he was the recipient of congratulations from a source of such an unique character, the like of which few men have known. The Tippecanoe Club of this (Marion) county is a political organization composed entirely of veterans of William Henry Harrison's campaigns of 1836 and 1840. At a largely-attended meeting of the club held on the 4th of January last Judge Jacob B. Julian presented a resolution indorsing and urging Hon. Benjamin Harrison for President of the United States in the present campaign. This resolution was unanimously adopted, and the club never ceased active efforts to secure Gen. Harrison's nomination. On the 37th of June last the club held a ratification meeting, and it was resolved that on the Fourth of July they would visit Gen. Harrison at his residence and present their engrossed resolution of last January, with an address of congratulation. In fullillment of this purpose, 91 members reported for duty at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Nearly all the members are from 75 to 80 years old, while Fathers Lynch and Jameson, who were present, have passed fourscore years and ten. Shortly after 5 o'clock they marched into Gen. Harrison's yard with President Isaac Taylor in the lead, and were meet at the doop by Gen. and Mrs. Harrison. As each veteran entered he was heartly and affectionately welcomed by Gen. Harrison, who was greatly moved by their fatherly zeal and devotion. Accompanying the veterans were 100 or more citizens and friends of Gen. Harrison. When all had entered the house the old Tippecanos banner was brought ought out amid the cheers of the veterans.

After each veteran had told Gen. Harrison something about his grandfather, Dr. George W. New presented the formal address of congratulation on behalf of the ciub, to which Gen. Harrison feelingly replied as follows:

"I am very deeply touched by your visit today. The respect and confidence of such a body of men is a crown. Many of you have known me since I first came to Indianapolis. I count you my friends. [Cries of "Yes, sir, we are!"] I know that at the beginning your respect and confidence was builded upon the respect, and even the affection, may I not say, which you bore my grandfather. [A voice, 'Yes, that is true.'] May|I not, without self-laudation, now say that upon that foundation you have since created a modest structure of respect for me. [Cries of 'Yes, we have; that's the talk.'] I came among you with the heritage, I trust of a good name [cries of 'That's so; good stock'], such as all of you enjoy. It was the only inheritance that had been transmitted in our family. I think you recoilect, and perhaps it was that as much as aught else that drew your choice in 1840 to the Whig candidate for the Presidency, that he came out of Virginia to the West with no fortune but the sword he bore and drew here in defense of our frontier home. He transmitted little to his descendants but the respect he had won from his fellow-citizens. It seems to be a settled habit in our family to leave nothing else to our children." [Laughter and cries of "That's enough."]

"My friends, I am a thorough believer in the American test of character. The rule must be applied to a man's own life when his stature is taken. He will not build high who does not build for himself. I believe also in American opportunity, which puts the starry sky above everybody's head and sets his foot on the ladder which he may climb until his strength to the campaign. It will add dignity and strength to the campaign when it is found that the zealous, earnest and intelligent cooperation of men of meture years like you is given to it. The Whig party to w

SAN FRANCISC, July 4.—[By the Associated Press, Independence Day was generally observed here. There were many intererally observed here. There were many inter-esting features, but everything was con-ducted in a quiet manner. There was a public procession, in which about 4500 peo-ple joined. In the line were, among others, most of the local military organizations of the city, the G.A.R. posts, veterans of the war, California pioneers, consular corps, army and navy officers, exempt firemen, a commany of Zonayer, Swiss sharp-shooters. company of Zouaves, Swiss sharp-shooters, two liberty cars, and one entire division composed or foreign organizations. The procession occupied 50 minutes in passing a given point. The parade was considered an excellent one.

The unveiling of the monument erected in Golden Gate Park to the memory of Francis Scott Key drew about 6000 spectators. The bronze statue of Key is considered by art critics to be one of the finest in he country. On the speakers' stand were eated, among others, eleven descendants of key, their appearance being warmly applauded. The exercises opened with a salute of one hundred guns. Maj. R. P. Following this two grandchildren of Key, amid waving of flags, booming of cannon, the sound of martial music and cheers, drew a cord that lifted the veil from the monument. State Senator Clunie and Irving M. Scott followed in addresses.

The Grand Opera-house was unable to hold all who wanted to attend the literary exercises in the evening. The exercises were of an unusually interesting order, consisting of orations, recitations, soners, cycloramic scenes and stereopticon views. The oration was delivered by Samuel M. Shortridge. For those who could not, or did not attend, the literary exercises and fireworks at the outskirts of the city afforded an entertaining diversion. TAMMANY'S CELEBRATION.

Cleveland Turns It into a Political Pow-wow.

NEW YORK, July 4.—[By the Associated Press.] The Tammany Society today celebrated for the one hundredth time the anniversary of Declaration of Independence. ally the celebration takes place in the wig ally the celebration takes place in the wig-wam, but on account of the recent fire there, the members were compelled to as-semble in the Academy of Music. In ad-dition to members of the society, there oc-cupied seats on the platform as guests Senator Vest of Missouri, Representatives Royer Q. Mills of Texas, Patrick A. Col-lins of Massachusetts, James B. McCrary of Kentucky, Charles F. Hooker of Mississippi, Benjamin F. Shively of Indiana, Melbourne H. Ford of Michigan, William McAdoo of New Jersey, S. S. Cox and others. Many letters of regret were read among them one from President Cleveland in which he says: "I cannot doubt that a renewal of the love and devotion of a pure Jeffersonian Demo-cratic form of government which you coutemplate will suggest the inquiry whether the people are receiving all the benefits which are due them under such a form of government. These benefits are not fully enjoyed when our citizens are unn cesarily burdened and their earnings and incomes are uselessly diminished under the pretext of governmental support. Our incomes are uselessly diminished under the pretext of governmental support. Our government belongs to the people. They have decreed its purposes, and it is their clear right to demand that its cost shall be limited by frugality and that its burden of expenses shall be carefully limited by its actual needs; and yet the useless and dangerous surplus in the national treasury tells no other tale but extortion on the part of the government and perversion of the people's intention. In the midst of our impetuous enterprises and blind confidence in our destiny, it is time to nause and study our condition. It is no sooner appreciated than the conviction must follow, that the tribute exacted from the people should be diminished. The theories which cloud the subject, misleading honest mea and appealing to selfish interests, which deceive the understanding, make the reform, which should be easy, a difficult task. Although those who purpose a remedy for the present evil have always been friends of American labor, and though they declare their purpose to further its interests in all their efforts, yet those who oppose reform attempt to disturb our workingmen by the cry that their wants and their employment are threatened. They advocate a system which benefits certain classes of our citizens at the expense of every household in the land; a system which breeds discontent because it permits the opportunity to work by stilling production and limiting the area of markets, and which enhances the cost of living beyond the laborers' hard-earned wages. An attempt is made to divert the attention of the people from the evils of such a scheme of taxation by branding those who seek to CIGARETTE SMOKERS WHO ARE WILLING to pay a little more than the price charged for the ordinary trade Cigarettes, will find the tempt is made to divert the attention of the people from the evils of such a scheme of taxation by branding those who seek to correct these evils as free traders and enemies of our werkingmen and our industrial enterprises. This is so far from truth that there should be no chance for such deception to succeed. It behooves the American people, while they rejoice in the anniversary of the day when their free government was declared, to also reason together and determine that they will not be deprived of the blessings which their Government should afford."

Speches were made by Senator Vest and Government should afford."
Speeches were made by Senator Vest and Congressmen Mills, Cox, Collins, McCreary, Hooker, Shively, Marsh and ot hers.

Putnam (Ct.), July 4.—[By the Associated Press. The great event of the year in Eastern Connecticut is the Woodstock Fourth of July celebration at Roseland Park. These notable gatherings have been held annually since 1870, and are due to the patriotism and public spirit of Hon. H. C. Bowen, New York's veteran editor, and Woodstock's honored son. The guest began to arrive as early as yesterday morn-ing, and the incoming trains continued to bring crowds at intervals until today. The bring crowds at intervals until today. The invited guests were met at the Union station at Putnam, and were taken in carriages where they were distributed at Plainhill and Roseland. Among those participating were Gov. Lounsberry as president of a he d y and the latter welcomed the guests. An invocation was delivered by Rev. E. P. Bingham. Senator Palmer of Michigan spoke on "New England and the West." Ex-President Hannibal Hamilin spoke on "Greetings on Independence Day."

A brilliant poem from the pen of John G. Whittier was then read.

Senator Fry then spoke on "Protective Tariff." The other speakers were Prof. Goldwin Smith, E. B. Webb of Wellesley, and Gen. Clinton B. Fiske.

AT PHILADELPHIA

The Anniversary Celebrated in Grand PHILADELPHIA, July 4.—[By the Associated Press.] Independence day was cele-brated today in an extravagant manner under the direction of a citizens' committee which raised by popular subscription nearly $15,000 for the purpose. At sunrise the Keystone battery fired a single salute, and shortly after a trombone band stationed in the tower of Independence Hall sent forth patriotic music in and around the balls of Congress. At 9 o'clock the First Brigade of Pennsylvania militia paraded the principal streets and were reviewed at Independence Hall by Maj.-Gen. Hartrant. The oration was delivered by Gen. Joseph R. Hawley of Connecticut, At the close of the ceremonies the old Independence bell was rung 112 times.

Toads with Alteged Horns.

Around its thick, short neck, like a cap fitting over the head, is a fringe of flesh, growing out like horns, to the extent of an eighth of an inch, and it has a tail about an inch in length. As this is about the only creature that a fly will not light upon, it is curious to know what the narrative is there for. This species of toad can jump farther for a fly, and with more inerring aim, than the toad without the hora; his eyes somewhat resemble those of the conejo de jack; its head is carved like that of a billy goat; feet, with talons like an eagle; is very friendly with everything except a fly, and readily becomes a pet, seemingly understanding the human voice. This species of toad is colder than the ordinary toad—all frogs are cold—and is of a dark, greenish color, rugged skin, chipped, or scaled, on the pattern of an a dark, greenish color, rugged skin, chipped, or scaled, on the pattern of an alligator's hide.

It states that the colored voters of Los Angeles are divided on Harrison and Morton. A more infamous falsehood was never penned. The reporter further states that he was told by a hood was never penned. The reporter further states that he was told by a member of the Texas faction, which to my certain knowledge consists only of four men, that the Texans will not support the Republican ticket. Of course, I doubt very much if he was ever told any such thing by a colored man. But if he was, I emphatically deny the assertion! The truth of the matter is just this: There is no antagonism between the Californians and Texans. Monday night's proceedings clearly demonstrated that fact. Neither do I believe there is a colored man in town but who will vote for the Republican nominee on the 6th day of November next. Yet there are four dissatisfied Texans in the Eureka Clubnot with the Republican ticket, but with those members of the club who have proven themselves formidable obstructionists to everything they attempted to do that did not carry with it the complexion of honesty and right. The reputation of the ring-leader of the quartette will got bear investigation. It will be sufficient here for me to state, for the benefit of himself and several others, that the respectable and straightforward colored men of this city have fully resolved to sit down upon all political tricksters and men who are not morthly of the right stature, both private and public, no matter from whence they came. The day has passed when colored one of notorious immorality, whose dishonesty is flagrant and whose private habits would disgrace the ditch, could and did assume the leadership of their people. We have seen men stained with every sin except those which required courage—into whose could and did assume the leadership of their people. We have seen men stained with every sin except those which required courage—into whose heads I do not think a pure thought aver entered—popular and powerful; men who to domestic fidelity were recreant, to common honor traitors, to religion bypogries, and yet these perreligion hypocrites, and yet these persons advanced higher than good men-could attain. But their days are num-bered. P. M. Jackson.

The Santa Fé Railroad is a fine thing for Orange, and so conveniently located that it just meets the wants of the people. The same may be said of the branch of the Southern Pacific, now just completed, through Mc-Pherson. Traveling facilities in this valley are all that could be desired, and the abundant products of rich land of this section will furnish a large amount of freight, which can now be beasily moved to your city markets.

pasily moved to your city markets.

The past week has been a very busy one. Orange never does anything by halves, and the unusual activity was in halves, and the unusual activity was in the line of preparing for our great relebration, the natural result of which has been a very gratifying success in svery particular. Everybody, old and foung, turned out to help swell the throng, enjoy the exercises, eat the good dinner, refresh with ice cream, have a hand in the fun, and see the fine fireworks.

C. E. Abbey, who was arrested at San Francisco an i brought here to anywer a charge of having set fire to a frame building on Fifth street, which he occupied as a restaurant, was arraigned before Police Judge Monroe yesterday, and on motion of Assistant District Attorney Daney the case against him was dismissed. The detective who worked up the case against tective who worked up the case against Abbey found a young woman, Mary Christman, who, fearing he had proven false to her, told a plausible story of how Abbey had, with the assistance of According to her story, Abstood watch while his accombey stood watch while his accomplices placed kindling under the edge of the building and started the conflagration. The story she told was evidently the device of a scheming woman to bring back her lover, for, when placed on the stand, she would not give any damaging evidence against Abbey and denied the criminal account of the fire's origin which had been so vividly detailed to the detectives. Abbey, who did a flourishing business before the fire, announces that he will open a new restaurant in the city. The open a new restaurant in the city. The woman was arrested for perjury after the trial, and although $500 bail was demanded by those who asked for her arrest, she was liberated on her own recognizance.

More Oranges Needed.

[Vailey Echo.]

Although we brag, and justly, about our shipments of citrus fruits—over 700 carloads this season just closed—yet we do not begin to supply the United States with this fruit as yet. Even with the help of Florida's million boxes we don't near do it. Last May, at the port of New York alone, oranges and lemons enough were received to make a thousand carloads. Heavy shipments are made to Boston and Philadelphia, and some to Baitimore, New Orleans and San Francisco; so that if we have the fruit and can compete (as we have proved that we can do) we are sure of a market. The shipments of citrus fruits from Southern California this year will fall short of 2000 carloads, and we have the whole country for a market. Plant orange trees.

What Am I To Do.

The symptoms of billousness are unhappily but 'too well known. They differ in different individuals to some extent. A billous man is seldom a breakfast eater. Too frequently, alas, he has an excellent appetite for liquids, but none for solids of a morning. His tongue will hardly bear inspection at any time; if it is not white and furred, it is rough, at all events. The digestive system is wholly out of order and diarrhea or constipation may be a symptom or the two may alternate. There are often hemorreoids or even loss of blood. There may be giddiness and often headache and acidity or flatulence and tenderness in the pit of the stomach. To correct all this if not effect a cure try Green's August Flower, it costs but a trifle and thousands attest its efficacy.

THE MAN WHO IS BOUND TO WIN.

whom they could march to victory. Besides this, he is an Ohio man, you know—they never get left, so they don't. Harrison, Grant, Hayes, Garfield, and here is an other, Harrison, to win.

It was Depew, at the New England dinner, who said, quoting Shakespeare with variations: "Some men are born great, and others in—Ohio!" Just think of it—five of the prominent candidates before the Chicago convention were natives of Ohio. You can't count the Ohioan out. He is too numerous. He aiways gets there. Each party has stumbled across him this time. The Democrats HARRISON IS A TYPICAL AMERICAN from away back, on a genuine American platform. A man without a blemish upon his life. Said one who knows him thoroughly: "His record is clear and bright. His private reputation and his public distinction are alike admirable. There may be fault found with his principles by his opponents, but not with his methods. His courtesy has been unfailing through life, and his genial dignity has always had the charms of genuleness and strength. In his boyhood be had a seriousness beyond his years, and in manhood he has the esnsibility of a boy. The quality of his availability is not that he has done nothing to offend. He has been a hard hitter, but never struck a foul blow. He is one of the great men of this day and generation."

While the people of this country are exercising their minds over national politics,

AN DIPORTANT FACT

AN IMPORTANT FACT

is escaping their attention. We are going to have more silver. There is a greater revival of the mining fever in going to have more silver. There is a greater revival of the mining fever in Australia today than was ever before witnessed. I am informed that it is unparalleled. And what is more, it is not a gold and silver, or any kind of metal craze, but solely a genuine silver craze. The deposits were uncovered in the Broken Hill region of New South Wales. While the success is great, yet the work may be said to have just only begun, for there are but three furnaces in operation. The weekly output of these is 74,000 ounces. This amount is, of course, small in proportion to the annual product in the United States, but when you remember that there are 20 square miles of available deposit, and that the Australians intend to get the silver out hurriedly, it looks as if one were safe in saying that silver will be cheap in the near future. This will have a great influence on monetary affairs and business interests, but I won't go into them. It is so hot here that we forbear from doing anything but shouting for Harrison and Morton, and eating watermelons on ice. I never saw anything like the number of seer-suckers and straw hats on the street to day. The seene would horrify an saw anything like the number of seersuckers and straw hats on the street today. The scene would horrify an Englishman. You drop over into London and you don't see a single straw hat—Gad, you don't! They call it a tropical head gear, and, outside of the torrid zone, they have no use for it. An Irishman always swears by and in his heavy felt Derby. But, of course, Britons don't know what a real genuine American hot day means, and methinks they are much the more comfortable for the deficiency of experience.

APROPOS OF BANDANAS, a gentleman in the trade here said: "The bandana is not necessarily red; it can be any color. It gets its name from the pattern on it. The bandana pattern can be any color of handkerchief, and the browns and yellows are more numerous thon the red. But Thurman for some reason uses the red bandana, and hence most people suppose that the handkerchief must be red."

There is a big demand for them?" "Oh, yes."
"And they are not made in Amer-

"No, they are imported from Eng-The bandana fever is on the wane. The bandana fever is on the wane. Wherever you go you see the thing is getting soiled, and it don't look nice any more and it is being thrown away. It cannot stand by the side of the Stars and Stripes, the emblem off the Republican party, and hold its own. But, naturally, you will find some dudes, who have nothing else to do, still endeavoring to persist in wearing it. But this persistency may not be attributable to any devotion to the night owl, but may derive its inspiration from the desire of the average American to wear something—somenight owl, but may derive its inspiration from the desire of the average American to wear something—something on his shoulder, something on his breast, something on the lapel of his coat, something on his watch-chain. Women ditto. This craving to be decorated with some appendage is a real rage. It makes one look conspicuous, you know.
That's why, too, some men get themselves up like dudes. Take a certain Vice-Presidential aspirant before one of the conventions a few days ago. He has all the qualifications which go to make up a good Chief Executive. He is brilliant, genial—in short, an acme sort of man. But he is fastidious in dress. Seen in Washington the other day, he gave the impression of being dudish in his make-up. Now, it is worse than nonsense for such a fellow to think of becoming President of the United States. His attempt would prove futile, because

AMERICANS LOVE CONSERVATISM and hate eccentricities, unless they are old-fashioned ones; like, for instance, the wearing of blue jeans by old Williams. If a man adopts a new style of collar or trousers or scarf as soon as the fashion makes its début, people will take his action as indicative of nonconservatism. And they fare right. You see a man come out in a straw hat before the frost is well out of the ground, and you can set it down that he lacks conservatism. You don't know what the devil he's going to donext. You don't know but what the next thing he'll do is, go off and throw a brick through a church-window. The majority of voters are serious people, and they think the Presidency is serious business, and therefore they want old-fashioned ones; like, for instance, a serious-looking man for it. Any man who shows the slightest eccentricity in dress, unless it is an old-fashioned eccentricity, will fall short of pleasing them.

OUR GREAT CENTENNIAL EXPOSITION. is approaching rapidly and we are all enthusiasm over it. Everybody seems CINCINNATI. June 28—[Special Correspondence to The Times.] Hurrah for Ben Harrison! Hurrah for brains and Brains vs. beef and butternut! Although we loved Sherman and stood by him solidly, we are more than pleased with the nomination. Harrison is a man of the most marked ability, and the Republican party must win with him. We count the Pacific Slope as safe for him, of course. It was California that nominated him. He was the candidate of every one of the doubtful States, they thus indicating with whom they could march to victory. Besides this, he is an Ohio man, you know—they never get left, so they don't. Harrison, Grant, Hayes, Garfield, and here is an other, Harrison, to win. It was Depew, at the New England dinner, who said, quoting Shekeragers. to be exerting himself to the utmost to the erratic Foraker than that the latter will improve every occasion to brush up Ponderosity a bit. We wish Foraker would not do it, but, this to the contrary notwithstanding, he pursues the tenor of his way. Foraker is the Boulanger of American politics. He seems to have lots of admirers and lots of capability to be brilliant, but sometimes his actions make the judicious grieve. On the whole, though, Cleveland has given the provocations. He has teased and tormented the soldier soul of Foraker, and lashed him into a fury, and, naturally (though, propriety-loving people might say, improperly), Foraker makes kindly mention of him every time an opportunity affords itself.

THIS SQUABBLE BETWEEN THEM

THIS SQUABBLE BETWEEN THEM reminds me of that old story, long since banished and forgotten, in which two farmers, a pitchfork and a dog figure conspicuously. It is somewhat thus: A farmer's dog was continually hankering after a morsel out of another farmer's leg. One day the dog made a determined onslaught, and the farmer luckily having his pitchfork in his hand, used the prongs to great effect in warding off the attack. The dog was considerably mutilated, and his owner hurriedly sought an interview with the belligerent farmer. Said he: "Whydid you use the prongs, the sharp end of your fork, on my dog, when you ought to have got at him with the other end?" "Yes," said the belligerent farmer, "but why didn't your dog come at me with the other end?" "GLOSTEE. THIS SQUABBLE BETWEEN THEM

The Battle of Lexington.

"Nay. look! Stout Harrington's not yet dead!"
He crooks his elbow, lifts his head:
He i es at the steps of his own house-door;
He crawls and makes a froth of goro.
The wire from the window hath seen and He hath reached the steps, but the blood hath gushed; He hath crawled to the step of his own house-door; But his head hath dropped; he will crawl no

But. O ye six that round him lay,
And bloodied up that April day!
As Harrington felt, ye likewise fell—
At the door of the house where n ye dwell.
As Harrington came, ye likewise came,
And died at the door of your House of Fame.

An Honorable Poverty.

Cullom is so poor that his Senatorial fice is literally a burden to him. the has been in public life so long that it would be impossible for him now to retire. He must wear out in the har-ness. It is in contemplating such men as Cullom, Gen. Harrison and Senator as Cullom, Gen. Harrison and Senator Allison that one becomes impressed with the integrity of American statesmen. These men have all had great opportunities afforded them through official position to become wealthy—why, Cullom could have been a millionaire by taking the other side on the interstate commerce question. Yet they are all poor. are all poor.

A. Damker, a baker who had a dispute with his wife night before last, when both of them were taken to the police station and lectured by the Chief, throws all the blame on the woman. He says she came to his place and caused the trouble.

John Smith was taken in by Officer Lehart yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock, on Los Angeles street, and locked up charged with malicious mischief. A woman named Ada Dyer was also brought to the station, where she was booked as a witness.

A son of Jake Kuhrts met with a serious accident Tuesday evening. The young man was exploding some fireworks, when a large Chinese bomb went off accidentally, blowing off a portion of his-hand. It is believed that the member will have to be amputated.

E. B. Moore, a boisterous drunk, was raising a row on Commercial street yesterday afternoon, when Officer Doyle attempted to arrest him. Moore made a desperate resistance, and in the souffice struck the officer in the face, taking off a good portion of the skin. Doyle stayed with him, however, and landed him in the station, where he was booked for drunk and disorderly.

One of the features of yesterday's celebration was a cricket match between a Los Angeles team and the Riverside club. The home boys had not played together much, and were, of course, at a great disadvantage, but they put up a good game and made the Riversides put in their best licks to carry off the game. There may be a return match in the near future.

Police officer Maguire has not yet heard anything of his horse, which strayed away or was stolen several nights ago. The animal is a small dark-bay mare, very gentie, and is a good saddle mag. The officer will pay a liberal reward for the return of the horse to police headquarters, or for any information leading to her recovery.

The bomb-throwers were out in force last night, and made night hideous, notwithstanding the orders of the police that this idiotte form of amusement should not be indulged in. A large bomb was exploded directly under a crowded car on the Second street cable road, which almost created a panic, and there were several runaways, which fortunately resulted in no damage.

IN HIS POCKETS.

A Sleeping Man Meets With a Queer Adventure. Yesterday afternoon a couple of darkies and a man who gave the name of D. A. Carrington walked into the police station with a Hibernian somewhat under the in fluence of liquor, who answers to the name of Mike Ryan, whom Carrington accused of trying to rob him. He said that he was lying down on San Pedro street, when Ryan came along, and, thinking that he was drunk or asleep, put his hand in his pocket and abstracted a jack-knife and a bunch of keys. He had a to bill in his hand, which Ryan attempted to take away from him, when he woke up, and the would-be thief started to run. He gave chase, in which he was joined by the two negroes, and, after running him some distance, they caught him and brought him to the station. Carrington was somewhat under the influence himself, but he told a straight story, and Ryan was locked up charged with robbery. Carrington was booked as a witness. The case will come up before Justice Austin today. came along, and, thinking that he was Officer Auble was informed yesterday morning that a row had occurred in Powelson's house and that he had been shot by his wife, Mattie Phillips. The officer made an investigation of the case and saw that Powelson was hurt, but that creature and the woman both claimed that the womd was caused by the explosion of a bomb white in Fowelson's hand. No evidence could be had that the woman had shot him and no arreits were made. BLOODS CELEBRATE

They Enjoy a High Old Time and Set Their Carriage Afire A hack load of young fellows came very near meeting with a serious accident yesterday afternoon. George Philbin and a party of his friends got out a four-in-hand hack which they loaded up with fireworks, and started out to enjoy themselves. They were all more or less under the influence of liquor, and one of them set off an immense Chinese bomb in the carriage, which set the upholstering on fire, and the ing frightened, dashed up the street at a rapid rate, with dense volumes of smoke issuing from the vehicle. The outlit was inally corraled at the O.K. stables, when it was ascertained that the only person hurt was Philbin, who was badly scratched up and bruised, but was not seriously injured. No arrests were made.
